

2008 年度

科目名  ライティング I	対象学科・学年 教育教福 1 回生	担当者  ジョーンズ
授業テーマ Students' will develop basic writing skills in a variety of formats and topics through structured and self-chosen writing assignments.
授業の概要と目標 The aims of this course are to develop Students' writing abilities on several levels: choosing topics and getting ideas, reviewing basic grammar and vocabulary necessary to write in a variety of formats, organizing ideas into paragraphs and longer compositions, and expressing their own opinions and narratives.
評価方法 Students will be graded on class work and on several longer writing assignments. Depending on students' needs, grammar and other reviews and exercises will be given. For each lengthy assignment, 2 grades will be given: one for grammar, spelling, format, etc., and the other for creativity and ideas. Students will be required to finish a 1500-word , non-graded, journal.
テキスト Paragraph Writing	著者 Dorothy E. Zemach & Carlos Islam	出版社 MacMillan Languagehouse
参考書 A Japanese-English dictionary is useful for this class	著者	出版社
授業スケジュール・内容 First Semester: Weeks 1-3    Review of the basics What is a paragraph? Finding topics and getting ideas Weeks 4-6    Writing about yourself Filling out forms Letters: formal and informal Weeks 7-9    Describing places Joining ideas into phrases and compound sentences Weeks 10-12    Daily activities: organizing ideas by time Short narratives Weeks 13-15    Describing people (1500 words in journal due) Second Semester: Weeks 1-3    Explaining cause and effect Giving advice Weeks 4-6    Expressing opinions Writing about Japan Weeks 7-9    Comparisons Weeks 10-12    Narratives: interviewing people and writing about the past Weeks 13-15    The past and future (final 1500 words in journal due)		